

Tax Incentives Increase Veteran Hiring

A recent study released by the RAND Corporation found that the Work Opportunity Tax Credit increased employment among veterans with disabilities by two percentage points in 2007 and 2008, or approximately 32,000 jobs each year.

Congress has enacted two more measures providing tax credits for hiring veterans, including a second expansion of the WOTC in 2009 and the VOW to Hire Heroes Act passed in November 2011.
